DISARMCO
CREATING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS

As a consequence of war, there are many millions of landmines left in the ground and further millions of tonnes of surplus munitions stockpiled around the world. These kill and maim and create a constant danger to the lives of innocent civilians.

By offering an eco-friendly and cost competitive range of products, together with innovative technologies, consultancy and training services, we can enable our clients to safely and responsibly dispose of their surplus munitions. We have been removing bombs since 1999 and have invested in our infrastructure during this period of time. We have tours that are safe for the many cruise ships that call in to Stanley, and for the tourists who are in the islands for a longer period known as land-based tourists.

We offer a great range of ways for you to enjoy your stay, on your arrival at this great destination of wildlife & beauty. Whatever you would like the day to be, even pick up and drop off for a penguin tour. (Penguin tours are from October to Mid April).

We are available any day, get in contact to arrange a tour at our website. We hope you enjoy your stay, please don't leave here without seeing anything, it would be a lost opportunity.

Disarmco is a UK company that enables engineering agencies to safely remove munitions (land mines, unexploded ordnance (UXO), explosive remnants of war (ERW) and stocks of ammunition and fragments making the environment safe and secure, without the need to use dangerous explosives.
